Silver Medal Winner – Best Buy 88 Points “Highly Recommended”

Beverage Testing Institute 2008 World Wine Championships

The Washington Post, March 2008

“Its name means ‘sixth’, as it was the sixth grape – the relatively obscure Lledoner Pelut Noir – that winemaker Laely Heron credits with adding an extra layer of complexity that made all the difference.”

USA Today, December 2007

“Full-bodied, rich and fruity, and full of spices and black cherry and plum flavors. Gorgeous aroma. I was stunned again when I checked the price. This is the second vintage of this wine, the result of a Spanish project from Heron Wines.”
